Shelley Berger, PhD Researcher of Cell and Developmental Department at University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, USA

Shelley Berger, Ph.D., is the Daniel S. Och University Professor at University of Pennsylvania, and joined the Penn faculty in 2009 in the Cell & Developmental Biology Department. She serves as founding director of the Epigenetics Program in Penn School of Medicine. Dr. Berger earned her PhD from University of Michigan and was a post-doctoral fellow at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She previously held the Hilary Koprowski Professorship at the Wistar Institute in Philadelphia. Dr. Berger's research focuses on the role of histone and factor post-translations modifications in chromatin regulation and of the tumor suppressor p53; her lab investigates the role of histone modifications in gametogenesis, cellular aging, and underlying organismal level behavior. Dr. Berger is the recipient of an Ellison Foundation Senior Scholar Award in Aging and an HHMI Collaborative Research award. She is a Fellow of the American Association for Advancement of Science, and a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and of the Institute of Medicine in the National Academies of Sciences.
