
JENNIFER HAWKINS

CV

PARTICIPANT AT:

EVOLUTION OF PLANT PHENOTYPES FROM GENOMES TO TRAITS

March, 17th-18th, 2015, Barcelona*Jennifer Hawkins, Assistant Professor at West Virginia University, USA

Jennifer obtained her PhD in Botany from Iowa State University (Ames, Iowa) in 2007 under the direction of Dr. Jonathan Wendel. Her dissertation work focused on transposable elements and their impact on genome size variation in Gossypium. She then served as a postdoctoral research associate at the University of Georgia under the direction of Dr. Jeff Bennetzen, where she transitioned her work into the grasses. In 2010, Jennifer started her lab in the Department of Biology at West Virginia University, where she continues her work on the mutational mechanisms that shape genome structure and function in plants.
