
JORDI VILLÀ

CV

PARTICIPANT AT:

THE HUMAN MICROBIOME. PRESENT STATUS AND FUTURE PROSPECTS

July, 2nd-3rd, 2015, Barcelona

Jordi Villà, Vicerector for Research and Faculty and Dean of the Faculty of Sciences and Technology at University of Vic - Central University of Catalonia, Vic, Spain

Associate professor at the Systems Biology Department, UVIC-UCC. PhD in Chemistry, University Autònoma de Barcelona. Postdoctoral researcher at the University of Minnesota and University of Southern California (EMBO long term fellow). Visitor at Imperial College London, the International Institute for Molecular and Cell Biology in Warsaw and the University of California at San Francisco. Ramón y Cajal researcher (2001-2006) and Associate professor(2007-2012) at the Universitat Pompeu Fabra; director of the Superior Polytechnic School (2012-) and Vice-rector for Research and Faculty (2014-) at the University of Vic - Central University of Catalonia. Author of more than 60 articles in research journals, one patent, more that 100 conferences and communications in international forums and coordinator or partner in national and European research projects (FP6, FP7). Director of the Computational Biochemistry and Biophysics lab at UPF (2003-2012) and at UVic-UCC (2012-).

B-DEBATE IS AN INITIATIVE OF:

