SPEAKER AT:

THE FUTURE OF PLANT GENOMES. HARVESTING GENES FOR AGRICULTURE

October , 9th-11th, 2012, Barcelona

Jun Wang, is the Executive Director of the \(BGI\) (previously known as the Beijing Genomics Institute). He was instrumental in the 1999 founding and the growth of the BGI Bioinformatics Department, which is now widely recognized as one of world's premier research facilities committed to excellence in genome sciences. Dr. Wang also holds a position as an Ole Rømer professor at the University of Copenhagen. He has authored 100+ peer-reviewed original papers – of which 45 are published in Nature (including Nature series, 16 as cover story), and Science. Among those 45, WJ is the first/co-first author or corresponding/co-corresponding author for 29 (10 as cover) of them. He has been recognized with an award from His Royal Highness Prince Foundation in Denmark, an Outstanding Science and Technology Achievement from the Chinese Academy of Sciences, Top 10 Scientific Achievements in China, and the prize for Important Innovation and Contribution from the Chinese Academy of Sciences. His research focuses on genomics and related bioinformatics analysis of complex diseases and agricultural crops, with the goal of developing applications using the genomic information.
